Commands, suggestions, advice given by many

The School Board was proposed with many new innovating and thought provoking ideas. Superintendant R. K. Moore worked diligently to make this year successful, along with the School Board led by President Frank Innis. A Challenge for the coming year was a phase elective program in English at FSHS.

Here at FSHS we were led through a CHALLENG-ING year by Principal Frank Goode and Assistant Principal John Milholland. The Athletic Department led by Mr. Richard Ricker proved FSHS athletically inclined. Whether it be a cut, bruise or headache, Mrs. Hartzell, nurse at FSHS was always there to help. Curriculum problems worried many students; but Mrs. Margaret Gibbs and Mrs. Martha Wacknitz, counselors solved them in a hurry. Students were fed nourishing meals throughout the year as Mrs. Paulita Lipp, planned the FSHS meals and the satellite program.

CAN-CAN Proven to be Henderson's best

Cole Porter's exuberating musical "Can Can" was one of the many highlights of the year. It was said by many that it was the best yet. The cast was led by Senior Jane Robinson who portrayed a proprietress of a house of illrepute in Paris in the 1890's. Senior Steve Bache, played a young judge who fell in love with La Mome Pistache, propriortress. Other major roles included David Sailor, an arrogant sculptor, who was in love with Kim Reynolds, an upcoming dancer in the dance hall and laundry of La Mome Pistache, Don Felty played a famous art critic, who was also in love with Kim.

Exchange students found school life at FSHS fun

This year we had 3 exchange students staying with families in the Frankfort area. Nubia Campos of Brazil broke her year up by attending FSHS a semester last year and the first semester of this year. She was living with Mary Eman's family. Birgitta Lindner, who came this fall, is from Sweden living with Cindy Ward and her family. Living with Teresa Miller is Maria Louise Von Zonneveld who arrived this fall from Holland.

Graduation with tears in our eyes and smiles on our faces.

Valedictorian. Steve Bache and Salutatorian Bob Dickson led 2-7 seniors in the 1973 Graduation ceremonies. Each senior received his dipoma representing great achievement and recognition of accomplishments made throughout his school years. In the minds of everyone were memories of the past thirteen years of happiness and tears With the individual graduate closing the first volume of his high school days, we found each had grown in mind and body. As each senior left FSHS, he left behind an impression, that would encourage future seniors for a life filled with happiness and ambition

All together this year the clubs of Frankfori Senior High School collected money for Heart Fund. Honey Sunday! Cystic Fibrosis, and the Aminal Shelter. They also organized monthly pail lies for the Clinton County Home, delivered circulars, raised and lowered the flag every morning cleaned up the school and, sold concessions laught the children of the community how to swim and taught students from the Frankfort Community Opertunity Center how to play basketball.

1972-73 . . . A very productive year

This year the High Life is come of the late of the state of the state the 1972-73 High Lafe has tried to inform students a every aspect of what has happened at ESHS. Through the High Lafe, students have been able to learn the facts behind subjects which trom Big Broadcast to Chess Click.

In the area of editorial the staff members have tried to write on subjects which directly concern students. Among the editorial subjects used and house the position of a consent to LSHS, and house it.

We have tried to be the votce of the 801 students at USHS by publishing letters to the editor and by supporting, through editorials which we felt had the support of a majority of the student body. An example of this was seen in the Dec-I issue of the paper. Students planned for futures in teaching careers

Future Teachers of America encouraged students for the teaching career. Mrs. Buck along with President Jill Berry led the club to a successful year. One of the many activities this year was a supper which was served before a basketball game and proved an asset to the club. Another event was a trip to a state college. This years selection — Purdue University gave students an awareness for college life.

Club meetings were varied with different programs throughout the year. These programs included, Mrs. Gibbs, who spoke on and Mrs. Kersey, who spoke on teaching the Special Education assess. The major activity for F. T. A. was exploratory teaching in which senior members taught at each grade school and also at Junior High

Students helped and learned in offices throughout FSHS

This year at FSHS, students helped in many areas throughout the school. Students ran errands and typed tests for teachers. Girls who wanted to pursue a medical career learned through experience by working in the nurses office, in the main office, both boys and girls collected attendance slips, answered telephone calls and delivered messages. In the P. E. offices the assistants, among other things demonstrated difficult activities and graded papers. In the counselors office the helpers delivered guidance passes as to appointment

The academic Area of the I school has halso changed in ten years. In ten years, in ten years the school has adopted many new classifies. These include Advanced Physics, Basic Math, two classes of Algebra, and Pilot Program of the Phase Elective course in English;

Much stress was put on the teachers this year as they were revaluated by the North Central Evaluation Team. But hard work and the extra hours paid off as they were rathed very high in the evaluation.

Phase Elective Program took students by surprise

This year the speech and drama classes were very active. Students in all classes took on labora tory work using the stage during class time to help prepare for the fall musical. Some skits done in the Big Broadcast were performed by students from smech and drama classes. Students from these class is were chosen to work as a crew for the technical aspects of the local and state Junior Miss pagents. Speech students learned much about the art of public speaking and the drama students highlighted their year by performing a children's play.

Pride and triumph — final results of hard work and long hours of practicing

The Frankfort Senior High School music department offered great opportunities for the students interested in developing talents in this area. The department instructed music appreciation, band, stage band, for those who swing toward dance music irchestra, chorus, choir, and swing choir, for those who enjoy performing in a small more professional secular singing groups. Not only did class instruction involve methodology, but the love for and beauty of music was emphasized. Much class time was used preparing for the many performances and conferent through the year. If a student wants to excell in music. Frankfort Senior High School Music Department is the place to begin

During this school year of 1972-73, the mighty Hot Dogs were the biggest and the best ever we can really be proud or our guys this year, for many placed on all-conference teams

When the basketbail season finally rolled around the guys showed everyone just exactly what kind of a team they were, with a very good finishing season of 13-7 including the sectional victories, they finished a total season of 16-8.

Hot Dogs had it in their hearts to wing

Racketmen stroked a 3rd in Sagamore Conference

A young tennis squad came out of the 1972 season with a 3-1-9 record. With only two seniors, three juniors, four sopholmores, and two freshmen, the Hotdogs finished third in the Sagamore Conference. The young squad was also under a new coach this year, Mr. Wayne Singler, who took over Mr. Milhol and siposition as coach for four years.

Starting off the season by a loss to Lafayette Jefferson, the racketmen came back to win their next two matches against Brownsburg and Lebanon. The only other victory of the year was against Nobelsville Other exciting matches, led by number one man Steve Giover, were lost to Carmel, and Crawfordsville by only one heart-breaking point

The Class of "73" — experienced today, leaders for tomorrow

The Class of "73" was led by their president through the "72" Junior-Senior Prom, selection of announcements, and finally graduation. The Seniors showed their talents by participating in sports, music, drama and academics. David Shiffler was a finalist for the National Merit scholarship, and many scholarships were awarded to others

The class officers for 1972-1973 were: Karen McClain, Treasurer, Greg Miller; President Steve Beardsley, Vice-President, and Jennifer Stingley: Secretary. All in all, the Class 173" was the best

The Class of "74" — a great future generation

The Junior class was involved in almost all school projects. They were held responsible for the Junior-Senior Prom which this year, as always, turned out to be a great success. Junior boys made their contribution to the varsity teams with the class backing them all the way. They expressed their spirit by receiving first place on the creation of their Homecoming float with "I Frankfort Take Thee, Anthenians" as their theme. The class of "74" played an outstanding role in the progress of our High School and our community

Junior leaders were: Carol Sutton: Presdent. Julie Conard: Vice-President. Pam Mit. chell, Secretary, Mike Flynn; Treasure

Sophomores contribute grandly to FSHS family

The cies of 75 represented spirit and the present in academics, they also participated in persity sports. Suphemores used originality and their Hernacoming float by ereating "Flush These Athenians". The class, presented a new idea, by seeigning an official school sing for PSHS marking the one hundredth birthday in 1975. The class joined in the fun of the presentation of the "All-School Play" as well as contributing to many school organizations.

The class was led by Joo Rises; President, John Rises; Vice-President, Rie Alband; Secretary, Becky Bussell; Tressurer, who helped to preduce this most fine sophomore class:

The following section shows the fine support rendered the 1973 CAULDRON by the Frankfort City and County merchants. It is the hope of all yearbook staffs that advertising provide one half the funds needed to produce the yearbook. We are most happy that this has been the tradition for the past 4 years. The monetary budget this year was $5,380. The figure was determined by the coverdesign, amount of color used in opening section and therme.
